Maureen Beacom Gorman regularly advises clients with global intellectual property rights in a multi-disciplinary approach on all aspects of intellectual property portfolio management strategy, including acquisition and protection of intellectual property rights, investigation of counterfeit and other infringing uses of trademarks and copyrights, and enforcement in federal, state, and foreign courts, international arbitration bodies such as WIPO, and administrative bodies including U.S. Customs and Border Patrol and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Ms. Gorman's invaluable familiarity with the inside workings of the United States Patent and Trademark Office as a former trademark examining attorney and her twenty years of practice form the background for her comprehensive understanding of the nuances of global portfolio strategy and guidance in trademark and copyright prosecution, enforcement, litigation, and licensing in the United States and internationally. She has handled trademark prosecution and/or protection for good and services in all International Classes. She has extensive experience in consumer goods as well as the food, beverage, and hospitality industries. She was also a member of the of International Trademark Association's U.S. Subcommittee on Anti-Counterfeiting and led the Internet enforcement task force for that committee.

In 2017, Ms. Gorman was named the exclusive winner in the International Law Office (ILO) Client Choice Awards "Intellectual Property–Trademarks" category for Illinois, an honor also bestowed upon her in 2015. Ms. Gorman was named to the 2016 list of Litigation Trailblazers and Pioneers published by the National Law Journal, a list which identifies litigation professionals who bring about meaningful change through their work. Ms. Gorman has also been selected by her peers as a "Leading Lawyer" since 2016, and recognized by the World Trademark Review (WTR) in the WTR 1000 rankings since 2014.

Background and Credentials

From 2000 to 2002, Ms. Gorman worked as a trademark examining attorney in the United States Patent and Trademark Office. She focused on food and electronic products and all service classes.

After her departure from the USPTO, Ms. Gorman continued to build her proficiency in the intellectual property field, founding her own trademark/copyright law practice in 2002. The guiding principles of her successful practice incorporated affordability, personal service, and ethical behavior. Her private practice began in insurance and commercial litigation.

Ms. Gorman has been selected as a trademark consultant in numerous Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB) actions as well as district court matters in numerous U.S. jurisdictions. Her litigation experience includes handling Opposition and Cancellation matters, ex parte appeals to the TTAB, and infringement and unfair competition actions in Illinois.

Ms. Gorman earned her J.D. from John Marshall Law School in 1997 and received a bachelor of arts degree from Marquette University in 1993.
