John Labbé is an accomplished trial lawyer and patent attorney with experience representing clients in high-stakes patent infringement trials. His work includes representing life sciences clients including in cases under the Biologics Price Competition and Innovation Act (BPCIA) and the Hatch-Waxman Act.

Serving as first-chair trial counsel, John won an $80-million judgment on behalf of Amgen in Amgen v. Hospira, the first patent-infringement jury trial about a biosimilar under the BPCIA. In 2019, he won affirmance of that judgment on appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, where he served as lead counsel for Amgen. LMG Life Sciences recognized the case as a Patent Impact Case of the Year for 2017.

John represented Onyx Therapeutics at trial in 2019 in a Hatch-Waxman patent infringement case about Onyx's Kyprolis® (carfilzomib) medicine. The District of Delaware issued its decision in May of 2020 in favor of Onyx on all asserted patents, and the Federal Circuit summarily affirmed that decision in March of 2021.

John has been recognized as a leader in his field. The National Law Journal named him to the 2019 "Intellectual Property Trailblazer" list. In 2018, he was recognized as the "General Patent Litigator of the Year – Illinois" at the sixth annual LMG Life Sciences Awards. He has also been recognized on the IAM Patent 1000 list of leading patent professionals, as an "IP Star" in the Managing Intellectual Property IP Stars Survey, as an Illinois Super Lawyer for intellectual property litigation by Super Lawyers Magazine, as a "Life Sciences Star" in LMG Life Sciences, and as a "Leading Lawyer" by Leading Lawyers, a division of Law Bulletin Publishing Company.
