Having joined the firm in 2016, Michelle has developed extensive experience formulating and executing global brand enforcement strategies to facilitate brand protection and expansion for a broad range of clients. Michelle has represented clients before the USPTO, Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, U.S. Customs, and federal courts. From trademark clearance to litigating infringement issues, Michelle helps her clients with all of the most critical aspects of protecting and maximizing the value of their trademarks and copyrights. Michelle's experience includes trademark clearance, trademark and copyright prosecution, negotiating coexistence agreements, assignments, and license agreements, domain name disputes, global customs protection and enforcement, Lanham Act and copyright litigation, and Trademark Trial and Appeal Board proceedings.

Michelle previously completed an externship for a federal judge, allowing her to gain experience with the inner workings of the federal court system which has proven useful in her representation of clients in connection with trademark, copyright, and counterfeiting litigation. Michelle has also been afforded the opportunity to engage in a secondment with a Fortune 500 company, and has experience working directly with in-house legal teams and internal brand teams. The opportunity has provided her with a unique perspective and understanding of the pressures that in-house legal teams face, and an appreciation of the importance of understanding a client's goals so that she can provide advice and strategies that are tailored to the business' and the brand's needs and objectives.

Michelle has also been selected for inclusion in the Illinois Rising Stars® since 2022 featuring outstanding young attorneys in the state and she was named a 2022 WIPR Leader for Trademarks. Most recently Michelle was recognized in the 2023 Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch in America™ list in the area of Litigation – Intellectual Property.
